REGULATIONS

Regulations

It is important to ensure that the water supplies to your taps and mixers are connected in accordance with the water regulations (WRAS) requirements and good plumbing practice.

It is Pegler's recommendation and good plumbing practice that the supplies of hot and cold water to the bath mixer should be at equal (balanced) pressures in order to provide a consistent flow. Supplies should be from a common source, either mains or tank fed. If supplies are not equal pressures then non return valves (801 check valves), (not supplied) should be fitted in each inlet supply line.

The outlet of the fitting must be at least 25mm above the spill over level of the bath.

It is recommended that in all new and refurbishment installations a thermostatic mixing valve should be installed on the hot inlet supply. The thermostatic mixing valve is designed to prevent scolding when using the hot water supply.
